

Blessed

A Prayer For My Blog

Dear Heavenly Father,

You know the desire of my heart is to have a successful blog and use it to help support my family. I pray, that if this is Your desire as well, You will bless this endeavor. Help me to slow down and really seek You, and lead and guide me in every post I write, every product I promote, and every product I create for others. Father, help me stay focused, and help me to use the weapon of prayer You have given me to stay in Your will at all times. I pray for moments of intense inspiration that will keep my fire burning for this blog. Show me what You would have me write about. I ask that You bring the readers to my blog who need to hear what I have to say. Help me to bless others with my content and products, and please watch over my blog to protect it from hackers or malware. I dedicate this blog and all the fruit it will produce to you, Father.

In the mighty Name of Jesus I pray,
Amen